LITERARY CONTEST HELD LAST NIGHT

FIRST ROUND OF HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST HELD AT M. H. S.

HOLD FINALS TONIGHT

Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, Is Winner in Girl's Contest—Plattsburg Victor in Debate—Excellent Program Tonight.

The first part of the literary contest given in connection with the Tenth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Northwest Missouri High School auditorium, a large crowd of visiting students being present in support of the various representative speakers.

In the debate, which comprised the opening number of the program Platts burg High won a 2 to 1 decision over Ravenwood. The subject of the argument was "Resolved: That the Organzation of a National Labor Party Be For the Best Interest of the Laboring Classes of the United tSates."

In the Boy's Extemporaneous Contest, Max Schrier of Savannah, was first; Roy Howard, Excelsior Springs, second, and Everett Bondurant, St. Joseph, third.

In the Girl's Extemporaneous, Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, was the winner; Dorothy McClain, St. Joseph, second, and Gladys Walace, Albany, third.

In the debate, Donald Breckenridge and Creighton Langford representing Plattsburg, on the negative side of the question, gave an excellent argument why the formation of a laboring party would be detrimental to the welfare of the working classes in this country Both speakers showed that by the addition of the new political party, much confusion would result in national elections, and they also brot out that the laboring man is well represented in the national politics today. They showed that the present policies of the political parties cover the range of opinion of the people of the United States, and that the organization of a new party would be unrepresentative of the voting laboring maan.

Leslie Powell and Kenelm Thrasher speaking for Ravenwood, brought out that the formation of such a party would tend toward a closer union of the working classes anad a better representation in the national politics.

Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, winner in the girl's contest, spoke on the "New Map of Europe." Miss Bookman showed a good knowledge of her subject, and gave an excellent talk on the manner in which the territory of Europe will be changed after the peace terms have been accepted and a complete settlement made of the great war.

Dorothy McClain of St. Joseph, spoke on "No Beer, No Work," the move which has been started in many of the large eastern cities in protest to prohibition. Miss McClain upheld prohibition, and showed that a natural re-adjustment for the better will result from the abolishment of intoicating beverages.

Gladys Wallace of Albany, spoke on "Supporting the Victory Loan," and in her talk brought out a few of the innumerable reasons why the United States should "finish the job."

Max Schrier of Savannah, winner of the Boy's Extemporaneous contest, also spoke in support of the Victory Loan. Roy Howard of Excelsior Springs, took as the subject of his talk "Paderewski in Poland" in which he brought out the great sacrifice made by the noted pianist when he entered the service of his country. Everett Bondurant gave a synopsis of the disposition which should be made of the German navy by the Allies.

Following the contest, the cups to the winning schools, and the ribbons awarded to the winners in the various individual events were presented by Prof. H. P. Swinehart of the State Normal School, in charge of the affair.

George C. Wilfley, L. C. Cook and Charles McCaffrey, all of this city, acted as judges in all the events of the contest.

The final part of the lietrary program will be given at the High School auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. The Boy's Oration, Girl's Declamatory and Musical contests will be presented.

H. S. ASSOCIATION HAVE ANNUAL MEET

ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE ENSUING YEAR THIS A. M.

TO ATTEND CONTESTS

E. C. Bohon Re-elected to Lead Association—Little Action Taken on St. Joseph Matter.

At the business meeting of the Northwest Missouri High School association this morning little of importance occured, other than the election of officers. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the report of the treasurer accepted. The report showed a small deficit and with the consent of the creditors outstanding bills were pro-rated.

To provide more revenue in the future the rule requiring payment by each school of twenty-five cents for each entry in the various contests was interpreted as applying separately to events of the literary contest and not to the contests as a whole . The events now covered are football; baseball; basketball; tennis; track; boys' oration; girl's declamation; extemporanous speaking, girl's extemporaneous speaking, boys; debate; music and essay.

On the question of the appointment of judges for the sub-district contests, it was recommended that wherever possible judges should be appointed from outside the sub-district.

The board of control was instructed to prepare plans for the possible extension of the contests. It was suggested that the music contest be made separate from the literary events and its scope widened. It is possible also that dramatics and other innovations may be introduced.

The St. Joseph Central matter did not prove the bugbear expected, Prin. W. I. Griffith of Central explaining his position and being answered by Supt. A. C. Guinn of Trenton for the board of control. Mr. Griffith was then elected a member of the board of control.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, E. C. Bohon, Savannah, succeeding Earl C. Duncan, Savannah; vice-president, A. L. Dailey, Richmond, succeeding A. C. Guinn Trenton; secretary G. W. Diemer, Excelsior Springs, succeeding A. Boyd Albany; treasurer, J. M. McDonald, Maryville, re-elected.

Prin. W. I. Griffith, St. Joseph Central was made member of the board of control succeeding A. A. Ross, Pattonsburg, and Supt. Ellsworth, Platte City, was elected to fill the unexpired term of G. H. Beasley, Liberty, who resigned.

It is believed that Germany's counter proposals will be ready for presentation to the "big four" not later than Monday.

A Slight Mistake.

The term "booze hound" is usually used when applied to the man who catches bootleggers, but it had a different meaning the other night at Bridgeport. "Scrub" Peeler, former well known Alliance man, is now the city marshal of Bridgeport. His work consists largely of watching the arrivals from the trains which come down from Wyoming, for many try to smuggle in booze.

"Scrub" and a state "booze hound" were watching the arrivals get off the Caspar train. Among them was a rather elderly man, poorly dressed, who carried an old suit case. The old chap handled the suit case gingerly, as though it might contain something that would beak. Setting it carefully inside the door of the waiting room at the depot, he left the scene, as though afraid to be seen in company with the suit case any more than was absolutely necessary.

"Scrub" and his companion immediately scented booze and moved nearer the suitcase, keeping their eyes glued on it as though fearful that it might get away. Presently, as they looked, a thin stream of dark liquid ozzed from the suitcase on to the florr.

"Ah, ye've got the goods on the old gent, now," said Scrub. He's bumped the suitcase and broken a bottle."

Stepping quickly to the suitcase he thrust his index finger of his right hand into the little pool on the floor and tasted carefully. "That's whiskey," he said. His companion followed the example. "No, that ain't whiskey, it's gin or somethin' else intoxicatin," said he.

"Well, we'll see which is right," said Scrub, and they proceeded to open the suitcase without delay, in full view of the crowd, which had been watching them. Inside the suit case was—and there was nothing else—a pair of young hound pups, which gave vent to their feelings of gladness by howls of joy, which mingled with the howls of the crowd, as "Scrub" and the "booze hound" fled down the track murmuring, never again, never again."—Chappell Hustler, Chappell, Neb.

Hopkins Journal

Ab Sowers, the well known farmer of the Good Hope neighborhood, is taking the dark view of the wheat prospects—says he wouldn't give ten cents an acre for the wheat of Nodaway county. He thinks it is so rank that it will never stand up to be harvested. Others declare prospects here are for a bumper crop, so there you are—pay your money and take your choice.

A deal was made this week whereby King Bros. now own the forty acres of pasture land formerly owned by Frank and Charley Hanna, 2 miles northeast of town. Consideration $95 an acre.

Mrs. J. L. Downer has a letter from a sister of Whitewater, Wis., stating that Alfonzo Bradley formerly of Hopkins, is at his home in that city. He was gassed while in France and is in a serious condition, being unable to speak above a whisper. He will return to Chicago to receive medical aid at the Great Lakes Training School.

Gas Supply at Medicine Hat.

Medicine Hat, Alta, May 9.—Mud is being shipped into Medicine Hat in large quantities from Eastern Saskatchewan. It looks like the plain, garden variety of mud. It is really potter's clay. Immense beds of it have been discovered in the neighborng province. It is turned here into fine pottery and ceramic ware. The mud shipments are profitable despite transportation charges, because manufacturing is cheap here. Medicine Hat has more heat, light and power from natural gas than it knows what to do with.

The people of the United States think of Medicine Hat as the place where all the storms and blizzards are manufactured. Heat is the last thing with which they would associate with. Heat, however, is its greatest asset. If the town's reputation rests on cold, its solid prosperity is built on heat. Associated in the popular fancy with ice and snow, Medicine Hat is really a synonym for warmth and comfort and roses.

The little city of 12,000 inhabitants sits on top of an immense reservoir of natural gas. There are twenty natural gas wells within the town limits with a daily flow of 50,000,000 cubic feet; equal to 200,000 horse power. Only one-tenth of it, the gas, can be used. It sells for from one to five cents per 1,000 cubic feet for power purposes, and twenty cents for private use.

The power from this inexhaustible gas supply turns the wheels of several flour mills, pottery and brick works, grain elevators, foundries, rolling mills, machine shops, linseed oil mills, a candy factory, the municipal electric plant, the water works and all public utilities. It promises to make Medicine Hat one of the great manufacturing centers of Western Canada.

Street lights burn all day in Medicine Hat. Strangers note them with amazement, blazing away wierdly in bright sunlight. The lamps cost the city nothing to speak of, and it's simply too much trouble to turn them out. Every home has its own gas log at which the citizens toast their shins cosily when the outside world is shivering under wintry blasts. In acres of greenhouses heated by natural gas, Medicine Hat grows winter roses for all Canada.

BROTHERS RE-UNITED AT FRONT

Brothers Separated for Three Years Meet in France.

Verdun, France.—This is a story of a hot meal and a cold major. And because of the combination, two brothers are happy in being reunited after three years.

It was during the sweep of a cold, slanting rain that there came a knock on the door of the officers' messroom of the Glorieux hospital here the other day. When the mess sergeant opened the door he faced a major of the United States Marine Corps, wet from hours in the rain, shivering from the cold that had pierced his very bones.

"The O. D. said I could get something hot here," he announced. "I need it."

"Right away, sir," said the mess sergeant. Then, a few moments later, as the major drank the steaming coffee that had been hurried to him, the mess sergeant found the courage to ask a question.

"Sir," he began hesitatingly, "I wonder if the major possibly could know Private E. A. George, in the Headquarters company of the Fifth Marines?"

The major shook his head.

"No," he answered, "why?"

"He's my brother, sir, and we haven't seen each other in three years and"—

"You'll see each other in three weeks," answered the major. And he kept his word with the result that Private E. A. George has just finished a trip from the Army of Occupation in Germany to see his brother in Verdun.

Journalistic Hash.

They are now making shingles out of cement. Looks like everybody has it in for the small boy.

When people lose control of their cars to the sheriff it does not mean that any bones were broken.

We often hear men say, "If I'd jump him about it, he'd only lie out of it, so I might as well not say anything."

It was a half-way honest politician who said he was going to knife the candidate because he wouldn't fork over.

There is one original quality of that rib of Adam which has come down to the present day—the bone of contention.

He called her the apple of his eye, but he refused to marry her and protect her, as he was afraid Hoover would arrest him for hoarding apples.

When an old lady says, "I never had any help in raising my children," it means that her married children are imposing upon her with their children.

The editor of the Sturgeon Leader advises people never to go behind the scenes at a theatre. He did that once and found an angelic Little Eva smoking cigarettes.

"Did you see Trajan's Column when you were in Rome?" asked a lady of a soldier who was at the Italian front. "Yes," he replied, "read it every morning."

"It is true," said the practical man, "that money doesn't bring happiness; but if you are rich you can be as crusty as you like without having to apologize for it afterward."

We are living in a rapid and selfish age, as will be understood from the remark of the fellow who ran over a dog with his automobile, who said: "Thank God, it wasn't a skunk."

The orator said: "We are wiser than our fathers were and they in turn are wiser than their fathers were." Gee!" said the every-ready kid, "what a fool your grandfather must 'a bin."

At one of the clubs in Fayette Mrs. A. said: "I can truly say that all my daughters have married well." Mrs. B., who lives on proud old Church street replied: "All of my daughters have married well twice." And now the ladies don't know each other any more.

We know a boy who has two big boils, and who said nothing to his mother about them. We're not that way: when we have a boil we want our friends to make a fuss about it, and wonder when it will break, and say it's a marvel we can work at all, suffering as we do.

A teacher was reading the Christmas recitative piece to her class and came across the word "unaware." She asked if any one knew its meaning. One small girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition: "Unaware is what you take off the last thing before you put your nightie on."

Even the small boy knows the country is going dry in July. A school teacher had written on the blackboard the sentence, "The toast was drunk in silence," and turning to the class, asked if any one could point out an error in that. Instantly one small boy put up his hand and, going to the board, wrote the correction. "The toast was ate in silence."

"I can't precisely make up my mind about my baby, Rowdy," admitted Mr. Gab Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "This morning he chopped off the cat's tail with the hatchet and then stole my watch off the stand table and hid it so's I haint found it yet. I don't know whether to make a doctor or lawyer out of the little cuss when he grows up."

A Fayette business man said to the Advertiser a few days ago.. "There is a bright, capable young man, who could easily make a name for himself if he would, but like some others I know, is working simply for the money he can get from week to week. He wants to have his coat and hat on and ready to leave when the clock strikes. He is what we business people call a clock watcher. He goes from one store to another, but as he does not take proper interest in his work, does not hold a position very long at a time. There is no future for that kind of a boy and it will soon be that none of the merchants will want him around at all.—Fayette Advertiser.

MARYVILLE SOLDIER RETURNS FROM FRANCE

Ray V. Foland Back Home After Year on Fighting Front—Many Narrow Escapes.

Ray V. Foland, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Foland, of this city returned home last night, after almost two years in the service, one of which has been spent overseas.

Foland enlisted on June 24, 1917, and was placed in the 35th division of the 129th Field Artillery, with which unit he spent the entire time of his service. He was first sent to Fort Sill, Okla., where he trained for seven months. He was then sent over seas and was soon in the trenches on the western front.

Although a member of the Field Artillery, Foland was with a "first aid" company, his work carried him up to he first line trenches. He was in five different sectors during the war—Vosges, St. Mihiel, Argonne, Verdun and Conflans.

He was lucky enough to come unscathed through the fighting, but had many narrow escapes, the horse which he was riding being shot from beneath him in one instance.

He sailed from Brest with his division April 8, and arrived in New York Easter Sunday. He was then sent to Camp Funston, Kansas, where he received his discharge.

NODAWAY WILL GO OVER IS ASSURANCE OF LOAN LEADERS

Final Tabulation to Be Made Monday Owing to Large Number of Subscriptions Received Today.

Today, the closing day of the fifth Victory Liberty Loan was the busiest of the campaign, according to the reports from the various banks in this township, and according to the opinion of local committeemen, Nodaway county and each township within it will have cinched the "honor flag" by night.

Although the county has been showing a tendency to lag during the drive, local leaders say that it is practically assured now that the quota will be raised.

Owing to the number of late subscriptions that are coming in today, Chairman M. E. Ford, announced that the final tabulation of the amounts would not be made until early next week.

Dave Tucker and Dewey Leonard of Burlington Junction returned this morning from Camp Funston, Kan., where they received their discharge. Both boys were members of the 35th Division which returned from overseas service several weeks ago.

Though "Three-Seventy-Fives" cost a little more at the outset, built to meet the especial needs of the Ford car and bring out its known virtues, they soon reveal a greater dollar economy, which makes it the better buy in the long run.

Private Room for Prayers.

Boston.—Praying in bed is not the proper thing, neither is kneeling beside the bed dignified enough for prayer, according to Heloise Hersey, leader of Bible classes at Trinity church, speaking at a Y. W. C. A. service.

"We have rooms to sleep in, to eat in, to read in, and we should also have a definite time in the day for contemplation and prayer and a definite retreat.

"We should pray in private, but not pray in such extreme privacy that no one knows it. Every child should know that mother prays and prays every day."

He Was "All Dressed Up."

Philadelphia, Pa., May 9.—"Abloom," literally abloom, was a highly colored gentleman when he recently strolled down South Broad street. The negro was all dressed up in a pair of snowy white trousers, a Prince Albert coat and a high silk hat. But lest spring be forgotten, he also wore a pink silk vest, a pea green tie and yellow spats. To complete the color scheme a huge bunch of violets adorned the left lapel of the coat.

LITERARY CONTEST HELD LAST NIGHT

FIRST ROUND OF HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST HELD AT M. H. S.

HOLD FINALS TONIGHT

Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, Is Winner in Girl's Contest—Plattsburg Victor in Debate—Excellent Program Tonight.

The first part of the literary contest given in connection with the Tenth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Northwest Missouri High School auditorium, a large crowd of visiting students being present in support of the various representative speakers.

In the debate, which comprised the opening number of the program Platts burg High won a 2 to 1 decision over Ravenwood. The subject of the argument was "Resolved: That the Organization of a National Labor Party Be For the Best Interest of the Laboring Classes of the United tSates."

In the Boy's Extemporaneous Contest, Max Schrier of Savannah, was first; Roy Howard, Excelsior Springs, second, and Everett Bondurant, St. Joseph, third.

In the Girl's Extemporaneous, Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, was the winner; Dorothy McClain, St. Joseph, second, and Gladys Walace, Albany, third.

In the debate, Donald Breckenridge and Creighton Langford representing Plattsburg, on the negative side of the question, gave an excellent argument why the formation of a laboring party would be detrimental to the welfare of the working classes in this country Both speakers showed that by the addition of the new political party, much confusion would result in national elections, and they also brot out that the laboring man is well represented in the national politics today. They showed that the present policies of the political parties cover the range of opinion of the people of the United States, and that the organization of a new party would be unrepresentative of the voting laboring maan.

Leslie Powell and Kenelm Thrasher speaking for Ravenwood, brought out that the formation of such a party would tend toward a closer union of the working classes anad a better representation in the national politics.

Miss Ruth Bookman of Maryville, winner in the girl's contest, spoke on the "New Map of Europe." Miss Bookman showed a good knowledge of her subject, and gave an excellent talk on the manner in which the territory of Europe will be changed after the peace terms have been accepted and a complete settlement made of the great war.

Dorothy McClain of St. Joseph, spoke on "No Beer, No Work," the move which has been started in many of the large eastern cities in protest to prohibition. Miss McClain upheld prohibition, and showed that a natural re-adjustment for the better will result from the abolishment of intoicating beverages.

Gladys Wallace of Albany, spoke on "Supporting the Victory Loan," and in her talk brought out a few of the innumerable reasons why the United States should "finish the job."

Max Schrier of Savannah, winner of the Boy's Extemporaneous contest, also spoke in support of the Victory Loan. Roy Howard of Excelsior Springs, took as the subject of his talk "Paderewski in Poland" in which he brought out the great sacrifice made by the noted pianist when he entered the service of his country. Everett Bondurant gave a synopsis of the disposition which should be made of the German navy by the Allies.

Following the contest, the cups to the winning schools, and the ribbons awarded to the winners in the various individual events were presented by Prof. H. P. Swinehart of the State Normal School, in charge of the affair.

George C. Wilfley, L. C. Cook and Charles McCaffrey, all of this city, acted as judges in all the events of the contest.

The final part of the lietrary program will be given at the High School auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. The Boy's Oration, Girl's Declamatory and Musical contests will be presented.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE ENSUING YEAR THIS A. M.

TO ATTEND CONTESTS

E. C. Bohon Re-elected to Lead Association—Little Action Taken on St. Joseph Matter.

At the business meeting of the Northwest Missouri High School association this morning little of importance occured, other than the election of officers. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the report of the treasurer accepted. The report showed a small deficit and with the consent of the creditors outstanding bills were pro-rated.

To provide more revenue in the future the rule requiring payment by each school of twenty-five cents for each entry in the various contests was interpreted as applying separately to events of the literary contest and not to the contests as a whole . The events now covered are football; baseball; basketball; tennis; track; boys' oration; girl's declamation; extemporaneous speaking, girl's extemporaneous speaking, boys; debate; music and essay.

On the question of the appointment of judges for the sub-district contests, it was recommended that wherever possible judges should be appointed from outside the sub-district.

The board of control was instructed to prepare plans for the possible extension of the contests. It was suggested that the music contest be made separate from the literary events and its scope widened. It is possible also that dramatics and other innovations may be introduced.

The St. Joseph Central matter did not prove the bugbear expected, Prin. W. I. Griffith of Central explaining his position and being answered by Supt. A. C. Guinn of Trenton for the board of control. Mr. Griffith was then elected a member of the board of control.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, E. C. Bohon, Savannah, succeeding Earl C. Duncan, Savannah; vice-president, A. L. Dailey, Richmond, succeeding A. C. Guinn Trenton; secretary G. W. Diemer, Excelsior Springs, succeeding A. Boyd Albany; treasurer, J. M. McDonald, Maryville, re-elected.

Pria. W. I. Griffith, St. Joseph Central was made member of the board of control succeeding A. A. Ross, Pattonsburg, and Supt. Ellsworth, Platte City, was elected to fill the unexpired term of G. H. Beasley, Liberty, who resigned.

DEPUTY STAPLETON DEAD.

Under Sheriff Was Third Victim of the Lexington Motor Car Bandits.

Lexington, Mo., May 10.—James C. Stapleton, deputy sheriff, who was severely wounded by the bandits who over powered and killed Sheriff Talbott and his undersheriff, John McDonald, late Sunday, died at 7 o'clock last night. Stapleton, as were the other officers, was riddled with bullets and evidently had been given up by the bandits as dead before they made their escape. He was unable to give a clear account of the tragedy. It was hoped he would recover so that a clew to the slayers could be gained.

IMPORTANT FRONTIER PROBLEM TAKEN UP THIS MORNING

THE HUNS MAY RETURN

Counter Proposals of Germany Expected to Be Presented to "Big Four" Monday.

Paris, May 10.—The "Big Four" this morning met and disposed of the important problems concerning the Austria Hungary frontier. There is an unconfirmed report current that the whole German delegation may return to Weimar, but it was stated by the American delegates that they had heard no such intimation and it is not expected to come to pass. It is believed that Germany's counter proposals will be ready for presentation to the "big four" not later than Monday.

Paris, May 10.—Despite the treaty arrangements, it is unlikely that the ex-Kaiser will be brought to trial. This was the concerted opinion of the majority of the peace delegates today.

Paris, May 10.—The treaty of peace which Austria must sign is rapidly being whipped into shape. The drafting committee commenced work upon it this morning. The entire Austrian Merchant fleet is to be turned over to the Allies. Adriatic territorial claims will be left to the very last.

The manifesto pleads for the nation and the government to stand together "in view of the danger of destruction." The same German government sent a note to the Allies insisting on the release of German prisoners of war now that the peace negotiations between Germany and the Entente powers are under way. The clause in the terms regarding the extradition and trial of the former Kaiser continues to excite much anger at Potsdam. A "league" has been formed for the former Kaiser's protection and the idea of a union between Germany and Russia is becoming stronger.

A Slight Mistake.

The term "booze hound" is usually used when applied to the man who catches bootleggers, but it had a different meaning the other night at Bridgeport. "Scrub" Peeler, former well known Alliance man, is now the city marshal of Bridgeport. His work consists largely of watching the arrivals from the trains which come down from Wyoming, for many try to smuggle in booze.

"Scrub" and a state "booze hound" were watching the arrivals get off the Caspar train. Among them was a rather elderly man, poorly dressed, who carried an old suit case. The old chap handled the suit case gingerly, as though it might contain something that would beak. Setting it carefully inside the door of the waiting room at the depot, he left the scene, as though afraid to be seen in company with the suit case any more than was absolutely necessary.

"Scrub" and his companion immediately scented booze and moved nearer the suitcase, keeping their eyes glued on it as though fearful that it might get away. Presently, as they looked, a thin stream of dark liquid ozzed from the suitcase on to the florr.

Stepping quickly to the suitcase he thrust his index finger of his right hand into the little pool on the floor and tasted carefully. "That's whiskey," he said. His companion followed the example. "No, that ain't whiskey, it's gin or somethin' else intoxicatin," said he.

"Well, we'll see which is right," said Scrub, and they proceeded to open the suitcase without delay, in full view of the crowd, which had been watching them. Inside the suit case was—and there was nothing else—a pair of young hound pups, which gave vent to their feelings of gladness by howls of joy, which mingled with the howls of the crowd, as "Scrub" and the "booze hound" fled down the track murmuring, never again, never again."—Chappell Hustler, Chappell, Neb.

Hopkins Journal

Ab Sowers, the well known farmer of the Good Hope neighborhood, is taking the dark view of the wheat prospects—says he wouldn't give ten cents an acre for the wheat of Nodaway county. He thinks it is so rank that it will never stand up to be harvested. Others declare prospects here are for a bumper crop, so there you are—pay your money and take your choice.

A deal was made this week whereby King Bros. now own the forty acres of pasture land formerly owned by Frank and Charley Hanna, 2 miles northeast of town. Consideration $95 an acre.

Mrs. J. L. Downer has a letter from a sister of Whitewater, Wis., stating that Alfonzo Bradley formerly of Hopkins, is at his home in that city. He was gassed while in France and is in a serious condition, being unable to speak above a whisper. He will return to Chicago to receive medical aid at the Great Lakes Training School.

Gas Supply at Medicine Hat.

Medicine Hat, Alta, May 9.—Mud is being shipped into Medicine Hat in large quantities from Eastern Saskatchewan. It looks like the plain, garden variety of mud. It is really potter's clay. Immense beds of it have been discovered in the neighborng province. It is turned here into fine pottery and ceramic ware. The mud shipments are profitable despite transportation charges, because manufacturing is cheap here. Medicine Hat has more heat, light and power from natural gas than it knows what to do with.

The people of the United States think of Medicine Hat as the place where all the storms and blizzards are manufactured. Heat is the last thing with which they would associate with. Heat, however, is its greatest asset. If the town's reputation rests on cold, its solid prosperity is built on heat. Associated in the popular fancy with ice and snow, Medicine Hat is really a synonym for warmth and comfort and roses.

The little city of 12,000 inhabitants sits on top of an immense reservoir of natural gas. There are twenty natural gas wells within the town limits with a daily flow of 50,000,000 cubic feet; equal to 200,000 horse power. Only one-tenth of it, the gas, can be used. It sells for from one to five cents per 1,000 cubic feet for power purposes, and twenty cents for private use.

The power from this inexhaustible gas supply turns the wheels of several flour mills, pottery and brick works, grain elevators, foundries, rolling mills, machine shops, linseed oil mills, a candy factory, the municipal electric plant, the water works and all public utilities. It promises to make Medicine Hat one of the great manufacturing centers of Western Canada.

Street lights burn all day in Medicine Hat. Strangers note them with amazement, blazing away wierdly in bright sunlight. The lamps cost the city nothing to speak of, and it's simply too much trouble to turn them out. Every home has its own gas log at which the citizens toast their shins cosily when the outside world is shivering under wintry blasts. In acres of greenhouses heated by natural gas, Medicine Hat grows winter roses for all Canada.

BROTHERS RE-UNITED AT FRONT

Brothers Separated for Three Years Meet in France.

Verdun, France.—This is a story of a hot meal and a cold major. And because of the combination, two brothers are happy in being reunited after three years.

It was during the sweep of a cold, slanting rain that there came a knock on the door of the officers' messroom of the Glorieux hospital here the other day. When the mess sergeant opened the door he faced a major of the United States Marine Corps, wet from hours in the rain, shivering from the cold that had pierced his very bones.

"The O. D. said I could get something hot here," he announced. "I need it."

"Right away, sir," said the mess sergeant. Then, a few moments later, as the major drank the steaming coffee that had been hurried to him, the mess sergeant found the courage to ask a question.

"Sir," he began hesitatingly, "I wonder if the major possibly could know Private E. A. George, in the Headquarters company of the Fifth Marines?"

The major shook his head.

"No," he answered, "why?"

"He's my brother, sir, and we haven't seen each other in three years and"—

"You'll see each other in three weeks," answered the major. And he kept his word with the result that Private E. A. George has just finished a trip from the Army of Occupation in Germany to see his brother in Verdun.

Journalistic Hash.

They are now making shingles out of cement. Looks like everybody has it in for the small boy.

When people lose control of their cars to the sheriff it does not mean that any bones were broken.

We often hear men say, "If I'd jump him about it, he'd only lie out of it, so I might as well not say anything."

It was a half-way honest politician who said he was going to knife the candidate because he wouldn't fork over.

There is one original quality of that rib of Adam which has come down to the present day—the bone of contention.

He called her the apple of his eye, but he refused to marry her and protect her, as he was afraid Hoover would arrest him for hoarding apples.

When an old lady says, "I never had any help in raising my children," it means that her married children are imposing upon her with their children.

The editor of the Sturgeon Leader advises people never to go behind the scenes at a theatre. He did that once and found an angelic Little Eva smoking cigarettes.

"Did you see Trajan's Column when you were in Rome?" asked a lady of a soldier who was at the Italian front. "Yes," he replied, "read it every morning."

"It is true," said the practical man, "that money doesn't bring happiness; but if you are rich you can be as crusty as you like without having to apologize for it afterward."

We are living in a rapid and selfish age, as will be understood from the remark of the fellow who ran over a dog with his automobile, who said: "Thank God, it wasn't a skunk."

The orator said: "We are wiser than our fathers were and they in turn are wiser than their fathers were." Gee!" said the every-ready kid, "what a fool your grandfather must 'a bin."

At one of the clubs in Fayette Mrs. A. said: "I can truly say that all my daughters have married well." Mrs. B., who lives on proud old Church street replied: "All of my daughters have married well twice." And now the ladies don't know each other any more.

We know a boy who has two big boils, and who said nothing to his mother about them. We're not that way: when we have a boil we want our friends to make a fuss about it, and wonder when it will break, and say it's a marvel we can work at all, suffering as we do.

A teacher was reading the Christmas recitative piece to her class and came across the word "unaware." She asked if any one knew its meaning. One small girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition: "Unaware is what you take off the last thing before you put your nightie on."

Even the small boy knows the country is going dry in July. A school teacher had written on the blackboard the sentence, "The toast was drunk in silence," and turning to the class, asked if any one could point out an error in that. Instantly one small boy put up his hand and, going to the board, wrote the correction. "The toast was ate in silence."

"I can't precisely make up my mind about my baby, Rowdy," admitted Mr. Gab Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "This morning he chopped off the cat's tail with the hatchet and then stole my watch off the stand table and hid it so's I haint found it yet. I don't know whether to make a doctor or lawyer out of the little cuss when he grows up."

A Fayette business man said to the Advertiser a few days ago.. "There is a bright, capable young man, who could easily make a name for himself if he would, but like some others I know, is working simply for the money he can get from week to week. He wants to have his coat and hat on and ready to leave when the clock strikes. He is what we business people call a clock watcher. He goes from one store to another, but as he does not take proper interest in his work, does not hold a position very long at a time. There is no future for that kind of a boy and it will soon be that none of the merchants will want him around at all.—Fayette Advertiser.

WHEAT KEEPS HIGH STANDARD

A Yield of 71,423,000 Bushels Is Indicated for Missouri.

Jefferson City, May 10.—The joint crop report of the government and the state board of agriculture for May, issued today, indicates that a record-breaking crop of wheat will be harvested in Missouri crop of wheat will be harvested in Missouri this season. Wheat is maintaining its standard of 101 per cent, the highest in eighteen years. The total yield is estimated at 71,423,000 bushels. The acreage of wheat this year is 37 per cent greater than last year, and it is estimated that the yield will be 38 per cent greater. The growing crop has not been injured by insects in any part of the state. Harvest will be earlier this year than usual. The grain will be heading very soon.

The acreage of oats has been reduced over last year, due to the increased acreage planted in wheat. The condition of oats is 83 per cent. The acreage of potatoes, the report says, has been but little reduced from last year.

General crop conditions over the state are good.

Mrs. J. H. Gray left this morning for Monroe, Ia., where she was called on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Katherine Cochrane.

MARYVILLE SOLDIER RETURNS FROM FRANCE

Ray V. Foland Back Home After Year on Fighting Front—Many Narrow Escapes.

Ray V. Foland, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Foland, of this city returned home last night, after almost two years in the service, one of which has been spent overseas.

Foland enlisted on June 24, 1917, and was placed in the 35th division of the 129th Field Artillery, with which unit he spent the entire time of his service. He was first sent to Fort Sill, Okla., where he trained for seven months. He was then sent over seas and was soon in the trenches on the western front.

Although a member of the Field Artillery, Foland was with a "first aid" company, his work carried him up to he first line trenches. He was in five different sectors during the war—Vosges, St. Mihiel, Argonne, Verdun and Conflans.

He was lucky enough to come unscathed through the fighting, but had many narrow escapes, the horse which he was riding being shot from beneath him in one instance.

He sailed from Brest with his division April 8, and arrived in New York Easter Sunday. He was then sent to Camp Funston, Kansas, where he received his discharge.

NODAWAY WILL GO OVER IS ASSURANCE OF LOAN LEADERS

Final Tabulation to Be Made Monday Owing to Large Number of Subscriptions Received Today.

Today, the closing day of the fifth Victory Liberty Loan was the busiest of the campaign, according to the reports from the various banks in this township, and according to the opinion of local committeemen, Nodaway county and each township within it will have cinched the "honor flag" by night.

Although the county has been showing a tendency to lag during the drive, local leaders say that it is practically assured now that the quota will be raised.

Owing to the number of late subscriptions that are coming in today, Chairman M. E. Ford, announced that the final tabulation of the amounts would not be made until early next week.

Dave Tucker and Dewey Leonard of Burlington Junction returned this morning from Camp Funston, Kan., where they received their discharge. Both boys were members of the 35th Division which returned from overseas service several weeks ago.

Compare Goodrich 375's with other Ford Car Tires

If you have not used these husky, de luxe tires for the Ford car, go at once to a Goodrich dealer and say to him, "Give me a Goodrich Three-Seventy-Five."

Compare it with an ordinary Ford-size tire, and you will find it bigger and burlier in every way.

As a matter of figures and measurements, it is an inch bigger on the circumference, and much thicker in the cross section—that is, a 31 x 3½ inch tire.

That extra size means a finer looking, easier riding Ford car to begin, and a longer lived car and tires in the end.

* * *

Though "Three-Seventy-Fives" cost a little more at the outset, built to meet the especial needs of the Ford car and bring out its known virtues, they soon reveal a greater dollar economy, which makes it the better buy in the long run.

Private Room for Prayers.

Boston.—Praying in bed is not the proper thing, neither is kneeling beside the bed dignified enough for prayer, according to Heloise Hersey, leader of Bible classes at Trinity church, speaking at a Y. W. C. A. service.

"We have rooms to sleep in, to eat in, to read in, and we should also have a definite time in the day for contemplation and prayer and a definite retreat.

"We should pray in private, but not pray in such extreme privacy that no one knows it. Every child should know that mother prays and prays every day."

He Was "All Dressed Up."

Philadelphia, Pa., May 9.—"Abloom," literally abloom, was a highly colored gentleman when he recently strolled down South Broad street. The negro was all dressed up in a pair of snowy white trousers, a Prince Albert coat and a high silk hat. But lest spring be forgotten, he also wore a pink silk vest, a pea green tie and yellow spats. To complete the color scheme a huge bunch of violets adorned the left lapel of the coat.

A BANK FOR THE LIVE ONES
How To Win Friends
We all want friends.
A worried expression will not win them. A face free from strain and worry is usually the first step toward winning them.
When you are getting ahead, the place it shows first is in your face.
If a bank account does nothing else, it will change a face of worry to one of smiles, and the unworried look and smile means strength and friends to the possessor.
